The DIMMER VIEW

School Population Decrease Doesn't Mean Cost Reduction

Your local school district is in trouble.

There aren't enough kids to operate schools efficiently.

This situation is in contradiction to that which existed during the long years when school population was growing and more facilities had to be provided. In Lemon Grove, as elsewhere, residents of school districts bonded themselves to capacity, to provide for the little angels.

Lemon Grove schools are designed for 600 pupils at each facility. Presently the population in some is at 400. Normally, this suggests fewer teachers, fewer rooms in use, fewer people in administration at each school and fewer supplies.

But those who look for relief from this source might as well forget it.

In a couple of schools a former classroom has been converted to library use. But the personnel required to operate the school doesn't diminsh in proportion to the reduction in school population. Normal attrition does not respect attendance. Teachers with tenure are not subject to separation. Custodial help remains constant because the work load does. Rooms converted to other use need care, too.

The same is true of adminstrative staff. It takes a business office with its necessary functionaries to operate each facility. The District administrative staff also has a minimum requirement to operate eight schools.

Operating costs of schools here are not likely to be cut back for a long while. In La Mesa last year one school building was closed after it was determined that its dwindling population could be distributed to other nearby schools without too much disturbance. Whether the savings will be passed on to the residents of the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District is not known.

All of the above has more to do with a new high school—Valhalla—which the Grossmont District administration is determined to build. Even though schools which feed students into the high school district won't be sending up so many, Valhalla will be operational early next year.

The uncompromising determination to build the school has caused a revolt among some of the high school district's supporters. The District says the school will be needed when the area around Cottonwod (south of El Cajon) develops.

Because of Valhalla, an unusually large list of candidates are seeking to be elected trustees of the Grossmont High School District. Twelve candidates are in the race. There are three vacancies. Ken Overstreet is seeking re-election. Palmer Svalstad and and Joseph Famme are not. Svalstad is a contractor. He is the senior member with 19 years of service. Famme is an aircraft management industrialist.

In addition to Overstreet, the other 11 contestants are:

Howard Harris, student, La Mesa
Beverly Hurst, housewife, El Cajon
Wiliam T. Walton, welfare district chief, La Mesa
Fred L. Herrera, businessman-student, El Cajon
Melvin E. Nunn, enginering manager and trustee La Mesa-spring Valley School District, Spring Valley
F. F. Brown, budget analyst, La Mesa
George Ochas, air traffic employee, Spring Valley
Don Hunsaker, college professor, Santee, and Elizabeth Pengelley, community worker, La Mesa.
Joe Drew, businessman
William Funke, corporation vice president

Some of these candidates support the expenditure of the $6.6 million new high school. Others do not—and for various reasons. One reason is that the District raised funds for the project then spent it for other things.

The election is scheduled for April 17. This newspaper has published viewpoints of some of the candidates. Before the election arrives, others will be spotlighted.

Mandatory Auto Devices Due in July

Your auto has more dates this year with government agencies than it had last year.

One, no-fault auto insurance, rests in the hands of Legislature. It seems that it will come this year if the members can agree what coverage it will demand. Some say the cost will be more; others say less. We, who are old hands at dealing with governmental agencies suspect the cost will be more.

But emission controls come to San Diego June 1—this year. The first phase—that starting June 1—requires emission control installation at the time of initial registration or upon transfer of ownership.

The second phase is for all cars to be fitted with such a device based on the last arabic numeral of the license plate.

In July, all cars with the license plate digit ending in 1 must be fitted. In August the numeral 2 is due and so on through April 1974 at which time the plates bearing a zero as the last numeral or having only letters must have the device installed.

Motor vehicle inspection and installation stations will issue window stickers. Dealers must install emission control devices on 1966-70 vehicles before they can sell them..

The cost is estimated to be $35 which will include the NOX (nitrogen oxides) control device. At a conference called by Carter Carburetor in San Diego last week, the least complicated of the four devices approved by the California Air Resources Board was unveiled. It consists of two major components . . . a speed sensor and a vacuum solenoid.

The Carter Emission Reduction device (CER) reduces NOX 45%, the manufacturers say. It operates on the principal of reducing peak engine combustion temperatures, with modification of engine timing and carburetor adjustment, and control of vacuum spark advance.

The speed sensor reads the engine's RPM. At 65 MPH it activates the solenoid vacuum valve which allows vacuum to be applied to the spark advance diaphram.

As a safety precaution, a fail safe thermostat, taped to the radiator hose calls the whole thing off if the eingine overheats. When temperature returns to normal, the speed sensor again takes over.

The device, when installed by a do-it-yourselfer, must have a certificate of compliance signed by a licensed mechanic.

When it is installed the engine timing must be modified and the carburetor idle mixture control must be adjusted.

1955-1965 vehicles will be required to have a crankcase emission device installed at a cost of $18-$35. But check your

FAMILIAR SCENE — Pick up truck crossing through a puddle at Massachusetts and Imperial in Lemon Grove splashes water high in the air, but the scene is getting to be a familiar one in the Lemon Grove and Spring Valley area. In the last week, the sky has been mostly cloudy and drizzles have greeted local residents much of the time, although there have been few cloudbursts. The week's rain amounted to .60 o an inch, bringing the season total to 13.17 inches, nearly three times the amount that fell by this time last year. Rain season is from July 1. $1 Million Deficit Seen For Helix Water District

A preliminary budget of $7 million for the 1973-74 fiscal year was presented to the Helix Water District Board of Directors last week by District General Manager Byron M. Miller.

As submitted, the budget anticipates receipts of $6,211,-133 and expenditures of $7,-264,748, with a resulting deficit of over $1 million.

According to Miller, presentation of the budget nearly four months before it is to go into effect leaves plenty of time for the board to make any desired changes.

"It is expected final action on the 1973-74 budget will be postponed by the board until some time in June," Miller said.

A deficit of $1 million was expected during the current fiscal year, but did not develop because of delays in construction activities due to new requirements for environmental impact statements. The $1 million deficit predicted for the coming year is actually the same shortage, Miller said.

Water sales earnings are expected to total nearly $5 million during the new fiscal year, compared to $4.3 million collected for water during calendar 1972. This increase results mainly from the new rate structure established last fall by the Helix District.

Water purchased by the District from the San Diego County Water Authority is expected to cost $122,400 more during the budget period because of a $4-an-acre-foot increase in the wholesale price.

No general tax assessment is anticipated by the budget, although figures do include an assessment large enough to service outstandng bonds in the El Cajon portion of the district.

No specific salary schedule was submitted with the budget. District policy requires comparison of pay with salaries of like jobs in other San Diego County public agencies. Area trends will not be evident until nearly July 1, so a recommendation will be formulated at that time, Miller said.

Studies are also being made of ways to improve retirement income and retirement health and life insurance for district employees.

L.G. Rotary to Honor Teen-Age Judges Mon.

The Lemon Grove Rotary Club will honor the five teenage judges of the California Highway Patrol Bicycle Safety Court Monday.

Dr. James Kenaga, club president will present plaques to each of the youngsters who presided regularly at the monthly court sessions held in the El Cajon Municipal Courtrooms.

Also to be honored are CHP officers Bob Barrett and Fred Blundell. Barrett is a member of the Lemon Grove Accident Reduction Team (ART) — the team that cites youngsters for safety violations. Blundell works the penalty phase. He is chief bailiff during the court hearings and is instructor at the monthly bike safety school held at Mt. Miguel high school.

Judges who will be given plaques are Tom Whigham, Pauline Repard, Bob Cowan and Rick Debus from Mt. Miguel and Jan Shinski from Helix. They took specialized training to perform their duties as judges. The group will also be luncheon guests of the club.

The plaques will bear the insignia of both the California Highway Patrol and the International Rotary Club and will be engraved with the judges names and with the acknowledgement of their performance of outstanding community service.

Youngsters cited by ART officers must appear before the teen-age judges at the Saturday court sessions. Those found guilty are usually assign to a one-day bike safety course at Mt. Miguel high school on Saturdays. Judges urge parents to attend the class with their youngster. The project has reduced bike accidents in the Lemon Grove area dramatically during the first 5 months of its operation, Officer Barrett said.

The Monday program was developed by Molly Mouilleseaux, chairman of the L.G. Rotary's community service committee.

"These youngsters are contributing much of their free time to a program that may mean the difference between life and death to some of these youngsters", Dr. Kenaga pointed out.

"And let's not forget the officers who oversee this program. Without their enthusiastic effort, the program would not work," he added.

CoC to Install Lake; Couppee Tops Program

The annual installation banquet of the L.G. Chamber of Commerce is expected to "fill the hall" Saturday March 17 when more than 150 local CoC supporters congregate to welcome incoming president Dell Lake.

The affair will be at the L.G. VFW Hall, 2885 Imperial ave.

Lake will succeed Mike Carlen, proprietor of L.G. Rexall Drugs. Lake operates an engraving and trophy firm and is past president of the L.G. Kiwanis club.

Al Couppee, sports director of KGTV, channel 10, will be speaker. Coup is past president of the Sportscasters/Sportswriters Assn.. of San Diego and Baja California, and was recently appointed by Gov. Reagan as a member of the State Athletic Commission.

He is a member of the Football Writers Assn. of America; the Outdoor Writers Assn. of America and various other national and local sports-oriented clubs and organizations.

In addition, he directs all of channel 10's sports; conducts a daily sports program and does shows with other sports personailties during the various sports seasons. Coup is an outstanding story-teller and is much in demand as a speaker. His knowledge is so vast that he probably won't decide what he will talk about until he steps up to the mike.

Bob Russell, a former chamber president, will handle the installation — which will be "short and sweet". Rita Wells has collected valuable merchandise which will be distributed as door prizes.

Assemblyman and Mrs. Wadie Deddeh will be guests at

Gripes, Suggestions Due at Conference

Community conferences have been scheduled at Helix High School and Monte Vista High School by the schools' Citizen Advisory Councils, Saturday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Under the community conference program, members of the Citizen Advisory Councils invited guests — usually about 120 people — to participate.

The guests, all members of the community surrounding the high school, air gripes, make suggestions for the school, and indicate changes or emphasis desired for the school or its programs.

The participants break into groups of five or six and write down their feelings on a large piece of paper. After all of the individual ideas are recorded, the papers are circulated among the other groups, which assign "grades" or priorities to the suggestions or complaints.

The papers are then returned to their original groups, where the ideas are placed individually on file cards and rated with a priority by the original group, which takes into consideration the grades received by other groups.

The conference is split into two sessions, with the first session devoted to airing complaints and the second dealing with suggested solutions.

The file cards are grouped into general categories at the end of each session, such as "student attitude" or "school operation".

Following the community conference, the Citizen Advisory Council processes the individual file cards, and, after grouping the cards into stacks with common statements, writes a single goal for each stack.

Cards with such ideas as "My daughter can't even fill out a job application", "My son can't add up a grocery list", and "Return to teaching the three R's" might be re-written as the single goal: "More emphasis should be placed on basic education."

The goal statements will then be reviewed by participants in the community conference at a later date and then presented to the school princpal.

In addition to guests of the Citizen Advisory Councils, members of the community may attend the conferences. Those interested in attending should contact the school not later than Friday during school hours, so that materials will be available.

San Diegan Charged In S.V. Case

A San Diego man was arrested at his home last week and charged with attempted kidnap and attempted child molest in connection with two incidents in Spring Valley.

The case began when a 12-year old student at Spring Valley Junior High School reported an attempted kidnap which she said occurred as walked to school.

The victim reported to deputies that she was about one block from school when a man in a van-type vehcle offered her a ride. She went on to indicate that the man grabbed her and pulled her into the vehicle, but that she was able to escape, although she dropped her purse in the van.

Minutes later, deputies responded to a simlar call involving a 14-year old girl who had encountered a man in a van-type vehicle in the same vicinity about five minutes after the first incident took place.

Through a license plate number given by both victims, Sheriff's detectives determined that Tony L. Lester, 22, of San Diego, would be a suspect in the case.

Featured speaker at the monthly luncheon meeting of Lemon Grove Lutheran church women March 13 will be Viola McKern.

The adoptive American mother of four college students from India for several years, Mrs. McKern will talk about India, show slides and souvenirs from there, and will discuss Indian foods.

According to Sara Duea, program chairman, Mrs. McKern who visited in Russia last fall, found people "basically friendly wherever you find them in the world." Mrs. Duea also mentioned that since the theme of the American Lutheran Church Women this year is India, the luncheon will consist of an Indian menu.

Women of the community are invited to attend the luncheon and hear Mrs. McKern.

Letter Sent To Easter Bunny's S.V. Address

After successful letters to Santa Claus, four youngsters from Barstow, California, last week decided to drop a line to the Easter Bunny at his Spring Valley address.

They apparently didn't know which street he lived on, so the post office forwarded the letter to this newspaper, hoping the Bunny would read it in the paper.

Sandy Johnson requested a bunny. "One with pink and blue and white with elastic on his feet for Dancing with me." Her sister Karen wants the same, but in yellow. Brothers Willy and Darrell asked that they be surprised.

"Life under glass" was good for another gold medal, demonstrated by Sy Iverson in the junior division plant sciences class. This is also the first year for Iverson in the club.

The team of Sheri Snively and Gabrielle Nierodzinski snared the third medal, in the junior division home furnishings class. The two girls, in their fourth years with the club, called their demonstration "piles of pillows".

The regular monthly meeting of the club Tuesday featured several of the demonstrations seen at the countywide affair. The club meets the first Tuesday of each month at St. Pius X Catholic Church.

ANNUAL SHOW – The Spring Valley Woman's Club has scheduled its annual fashion show for March 14 at noon in the Memory Lane Center. The theme for this year's show is "Hawaii Calls", according to Marlene Ketell, chairman of the show. Proceeds from the affair will go into the club's scholarship fund. In photo, Virginia Smith, left, of Flora's Fashions in Lemon Grove, outfits Mrs. Ketell for the show as Flora Stewart, owner of the local fashion shop, gives her approval. Flora's will supply all fashions for the show.

La Mesa Republican Women Mull Drug Tip Support

The La Mesa Republican Woman's Club probably will sponsor a local "We TIP" program, Mrs. Robert M. Evans, club president announced this week.

We TIP (We Turn In Pushers) seeks to reduce traffic in illicit narcotics by providing a telephone number which can be called anonymously, to start the sequence by which drug peddlers are apprehended.

Additionally, the tipster, via a code number, which is exchanged (also anonymously) gets a reward once the peddler is convicted.

The woman's club would provide the cost of the phone and the reward but aid will be sought through other groups and organizations to help publicize the project.

The program was outlined to the woman's group last week by Charles Cordell, Kiwanis lieutenant governor of District 31.

He said the program is now operating in 44 cities in California. We TIP orginally was funded by William Brownell, a retired L.A. deputy sheriff from an idea from a similar program in Tampa, Fla.

There is some criticism regrading We Tip operation. One, that is may be used maliciously against an innocent person who is disliked by another. Cordell, who solicits service clubs for donations to the program, says that such has not been the case in the 44 programs elsewhere in the state. "Some of us believe it is the only way to eliminate the problem," he said.

Another observation is that the program cannot be audited because of the secret nature of its operation. Cordell produced an audit statement from a San Diego firm which indicated WeTIP collected $15,132 last year and paid out $1,000 in rewards.

The way WeTIP works: A telephone operator at a secret location has been trained to receive calls. She is capable of screening out most crank, false and malicious calls. Her first words are: "This is the T.I.P. operator, do not give your name." After taking the information a code name and number are assigned along with a location to pick up their reward. The caller remains absolutely and forever anonymous.

Rewards are given in cash in $100 to $500 amounts, based on the value of the information. The reward is made at the pre-arranged location by use of the assigned code name and number. No personal contact is ever made with the informant.

The informant knows of the completion of the narcotics case by watching the newspapers or by calling the WeTIP number giving the code.

The WeTIP number and collateral information will be published in these columns from time to time if the project is underwritten locally.

The La Mesa Republican Woman's club will decide on WeTIP support when their board meets next week, Mrs. Evans said.

Learn Spanish The Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

"De," when used as an independent word in Spanish, means "of" or "from." We may see it used in simple statements like "Yo soy de San Diego." (I am from San Diego.) and "Ella es una amiga de mi esposa." (She is a friend of my wife.).

"De" is also used in the construction of small dependent phrases or prepositions. Examples of these are seen in "antes de," "delante de," "en vez de," "lejos de," and "acerca de."

"Antes de" means "before" in relationship to time or a time sequence. Examples of this are seen in "Voy a comer antes de trabajar." (I am going to eat before going to work.) and "Vamos a estudiar antes de preguntar." (We are going to study before we ask.).

"Delante de" means "before" of "in front of" in relationship to a location. This permits us to construct phrases like "Estamos delante de todos en la linea." (We are before everyone else in the line.) and "Mi coche esta directamente delante de nosotros." (My car is directly before us.).

"En vez de" means "in place of" or "instead of." This may appear in complete expressions like "Deseo ver en vez de escuchar." (I want to see instead of listen.) and "Limpiamos la casa en vez de descansar." (We clean the house instead of resting.).

"Lejos de" means "far (away) from" and appears in sentences "Ellos estan lejos de nosotros." (They are far away from us.) and "No me gusta estar lejos de ella." (I don't like to be far away from her.).

"Acerca de" means "about" or "concerning." We can use this in the phrases "Eso es acerca de ella." (That is about her.) and "No hablamos acerca de esto." (We don't talk about that. PART TIME WORKER — Renetta Combs, a student at Spring Valley Junior High School, is employed part time at the Early Learning Center, a Casa de Oro business, under a new program headed by Aubrey Dunn, a counselor at the school. The new program in which students work for no pay, offers aid to local businesses and gives the student a chance to prove his self-worth, Dunn said. Dunn will explain the program March 13 at a meeting of the Casa de Oro Business Association.

Arne Christianson Seeks Third Term On Board

Rev. Arne Christianson, 57, of 10058 Pandora dr., La Mesa, is a candidate for re-election to the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District Board of Trustees.

Christianson, who is pastor of College Lutheran Church, will be seeking a third term. He was originally appointed to the board by the County Superintendent of Schools seven years ago to fill a vacancy, then was elected for his first full term four years ago.

He has served as president of the board and has been the board's representative to the California School Boards Association and the National Association of School Administrators.

In connection with his occupation, Christianson has been a minister in the San Diego area for 15 years and has been a member of the Lutheran Servicemen's Center Committee, the Lutheran Campus Center at San Diego State, and the Lutheran Association for Retarded Children, which owns and operates the Home of the Guiding Hands.

Christianson

He has also been involved with the church's Synodical Board of Education, the Lutheran Federation World Federation Seminar on the Family and the La Mesa Rotary Club.

He is married and is the father of three children.

Christianson said that he is happy with the recent development which has led to more community involvement in the La Mesa-Spring Valley District, including involvement with textbook selection and goals for the district as well as the development of school programs.

He is also encouraged with an early childhood education plan which is being considered at the state level.

Christianson indicated that the district is facing a problem because of the current changes in financing education, indicating that it is not yet clear exactly how the changes will affect his district.

He expressed confidence, however, that there would be no major problems, although the district expects to have fewer programs for the next couple of years.

The candidate also expressed views on the recent change in board meetings which calls for holding one meeting each month at a school rather than at the education center. By floating the meetings at different schools, trustees hope to achieve more communication with citizens and more exposure of the board's routine.

So far, one meeting has been held at a school, and Christianson said that it has indicated no larger attendance than at regular meetings.

He added that it is easier to work at the education center, but that if the floating meetings prove to be valuable to the community, that trustees would be willing to overcome the inconvenience involved.

Split Concert To Aid Miguel Music Groups

Both programs begin at 7:30 and $1 tickets, available through students or the music department, are valid for both performances. Four prizes, including a microwave oven, two $50 gift certificates and a pair of ten-speed bicycles, are to be given to persons attending the concerts.

The Friday program features selections by the Miguel symphonic band and concert band while the Saturday offering displays the orchestra, wind ensemble and stage band.

Proceeds from ticket sales are used for band and orchestra expenses, including a scheduled concert trip to Catalina in May and a summer music camp at Mataguay in the Laguna Mts.

Chorale Sets Auditions

Donation is $5 per person and tickets may be obtained by calling 447-6641, or 463-6379, or from any band member. Tickets will also be available at the door.

Letters to the Editor

In answer to the two "broke taxpayers" who wrote in regarding the County Spay Clinic proposal. The fears expressed are very real and it is sad, but we do have an overpopulation problem.

All of the furor is a sincere effort to defuse the bomb so that the thousands of animals will not have to be put to death each year. However, if the solution is to be achieved it will have to be through owner responsibility and compliance with laws, with education of the public how to care for these pets, with chemical contraceptive measures that are convenient, cheap and effective, and lastly the surgical sterilization. I say lastly simply because the procedure is too slow, too bothersome, and too costly even if done at a strict non-profit fee. All of these parts of the solution must be implemented in a simultaneous effort, if the problem is to be solved. The "Spay" is a complete Ovario-Hysterectomy and provides many fringe benefits for the owner that have nothing to do with over-population and should be viewed as luxury benefits and not part of the solution to the problem.

A sterile animal does not get pregnant which is what is desired. A "spayed" animal also, does not attract males or have messy discharge during her period, has much less incidence of brest tumors, has no uterine infection or tumor growth, has no false pregnancies, and is content to stay at home and be a good pet if the sexual urgings are eliminated for all time.

These are the real benefits, and largely the reason why an animal is spayed.

This is also why the Veterinarian is reluctant to give up a just remuneration for his work and objects to being railroaded into doing luxury work for a non-profit fee in the course of the anti pollution fever.

Pharmaceutical companies will have a "pill" out shortly, and a responsible and educated pet owner can and will accomplish the goal without another governmental boodoggle that costs the public more and more ad infinitum.

Dear Editor:

As a member of the House of Representatives' Postal Service Subcommittee, I have become increasingly alarmed by the apparent deterioration of mail service in this Nation.

It is becoming quite clear that we face a massive breakdown in service if the trend towards collapse is not corrected in the very near future.

It has been reported to me that letters often take a week just to go across town. Sealed railroad cars are discovered with undelivered mail six months old. Evidently, a lot of mail is simply being lost.

It is time, perhaps past time, for we in Congress to ask, "What is going on in the Postal Service?"

In order to ascertain the extent of deteriorating mail service in California, I am requesting your readers to write me describing any problems they may have had with mail delivery in your area. I plan to make an analysis of the reports I receive and use this analysis in a full investigation of the Postal Service.

Briefly, I think that there are two major factors that have brought about the lessening in postal efficiency. One factor is the Postal Service management. Massive planning and construction programs have not resulted in new efficiencies; rather, heavy-handed and misguided personnel policies have undermined employee morale, disrupted stable employee-management relations, and have brought the Postal Service to the brink of a strike this spring.

The second factor is the premise that the Postal Service must make a profit. But, do we ask our fire departments, police departments, and schools to make a profit? Public service such as delivering mail promptly and efficiently ought to be the primary concern of the Postal Service. What we have today is a Postal Service that neither provides adequate service nor makes a profit.

The fact is the Postal Service has fallen on its corporate face and now it is trying to "improve" matters by reducing routes, cutting work shifts and adding highly paid bureaucrats.

I hope that your readers will assist my efforts so that the House of Representatives' Postal Service Subcommittee can effecively deal with the management of the Postal Service and upgrade the quality of mail service.

Sincerely yours,
Jerome R. Waldie

Dear Editor:

A public hearing of interest to all residents of Lemon Grove is scheduled before the San Diego City Council on March 15, at 9:30 a.m. in Council Chambers, Community Concourse, 202 C street.

The hearing is on an appeal by Lawrence Construction Company of Los Angeles on a recommendation by the City Planning Commission to deny a proposed planned residential development.

The development is known as College Crest Townhouses and is planned for the area just west of 69th street between San Miguel avenue and Mallard street. Although the area in question lies entirely within the City, the impact of the development would be primarily on the Lemon Grove Community.

Members of the Broadway Heights Community Council have worked actively to oppose College Crest Townhouses because the proposed zoning, R-1-5, is not consistent with the adopted general plan, nor with adjacent zoning and existing development. Streets in the area are inadequate to handle the projected traffic flow of 1500 additional cars per day. Other objections include the increase of as many as 75 additional students in the population of Helix High School which is already on extended day sessions and severely overcrowded.

Lemon Grove Planning Association has given active support in opposition to this development. The support of Lemon Grove residents is needed to assure denial. Everyone is encouraged to attend the hearing and demonstrate their opposition. The presence of citizens carries great influence.

Verna Quinn
President, Broadway Heights Community Council

Dear Editor:

The Valle de Oro Planning Association has been told by the County Planning Staff that there are approximately 48,000 people in our planning area. Out of the 48,000 people we have an Executive membership of 123. As attendance secretary, I feel this is very poor and I don't feel that this is a true representation of our community.

I know just what is going to happen when it comes to the end of our planning stage. Those who have not attended will start crying about: Why isn't there a park in my area, why isn't there any provisions for off road motor vehicles in the area, why aren't there more horse, bicycle and hiking trails, why isn't there a bigger business section, why aren't there more schools or churches, why isn't there any farm land or open space?

What I will say to these people is, look in your mirror at home and tell me if that person has been a member of the Valle de Oro Planning Association Executive Committee.

The membership is open to anyone attending high school, anyone who rents or owns property, or anyone that works in the Valle de Oro Planning area.

Meetings are on the second and fourth Wednesday of each month. They are held at Monte Vista High School in room 1002 at 7:30 p.m.

Betty L. Green
Attendance Secretary

Planners Table Goals

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — The county planning commission has put off consideration of the goals of the Lemon Grove Planning Association until March 16.

Postponement was not based on any opposition to the goals adopted by the association, but on the fact that two new commissioners had not had a chance to review the document.

The commissioners are Dr. Gaylord Parkinson of El Cajon and Ross Daily of Fallbrook.

SAFE — Chula Vista's Bob Blackburn, left, arrives safely at first base as Mt. Miguel High School first baseman Paul Schneider awaits throw from shortstop Bill Cohen. The infield single by Blackburn in the sixth inning was the only hit given up by Mt. Miguel pitcher Phil Williamson, who worked six innings and faced one man in the seventh frame before retiring from the mound. Williamson, however, absorbed the loss after the man he faced in the seventh was safe on an error and later scored the game's only run. Mt Miguel will host Bonita Vista tomorrow afternoon in search of the season's first victory. (Vince Broesch photo)

Carman Swimmers in C.V. Pentathlon

Some Carman Ranch Club swimmers participated in a short-course pentathlon last week at Chula Vista's Loma Verde pool.

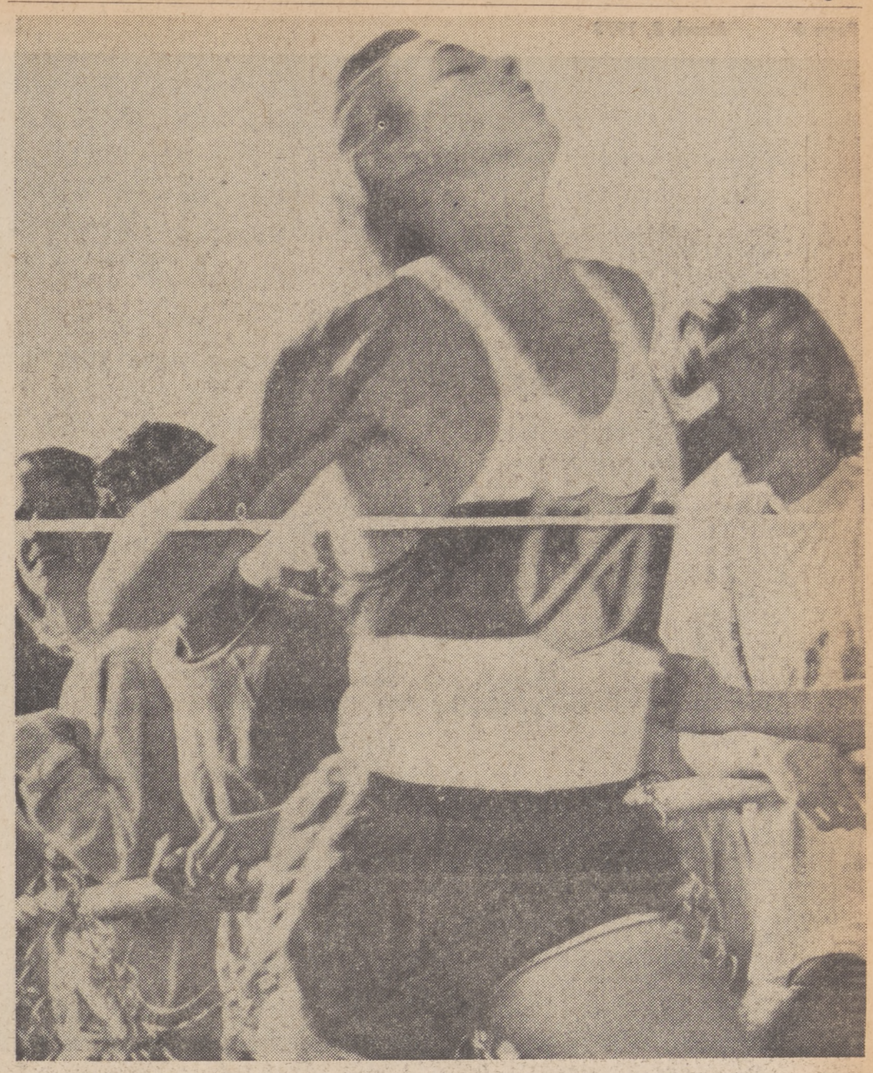
A pentathlon swim meet includes freestyle, butterfly, backstroke, breast stroke and individual medley competition.

Each contestant swam the five events separately for individual awards. Team points stem from the overall competition.

Carman Ranch's Caroline Hart gained second place among girls-11 years in breast stroke. Her sister, Kathy, 12, took first in 100 yard breast stroke and third in individual medley, placing her third overall.

Other outstanding performances in the meet included Arlette Bruce, Eva Judson, and Pat Bruce in the individual medley. Charlene Savoie placed sixth in the 100 breast. Pat Bruce again placed fourth in backstroke setting his fastest time.

Other Carmen swimmers included Therese and Julie Zak. The team is coached by David Szuch.



NOT EVEN CLOSE — Mike McGrath, ace middle distance runner for the Monte Vista track team, turned in a mild surprise last Friday afternoon by whipping teammate Gary Close in the mile run in a meet against Helix. McGrath was a double winner, also claiming the 880. Close came back later to win the two-mile, but the middle distance and distance strength did little for the lackluster Monarchs, who fell, 80-56, in what was expected to be a close meet. In other Grossmont League track openers, Granite Hills surprised favored Grossmont by gaining a 68-68 tie, El Capitan bombed El Cajon, 83-62, and Mt. Miguel blasted Santana, 90-46. El Capitan is the favored team to win the league title this season.

O'Ree, Rick Foley Spark Gulls Play

Local fans welcomed back two favorites last Friday night, when Willie O'Ree and Rick Foley returned to the Gull lineup.

O'Ree, a five year veteran with the Gulls and now in his 18th season of professional hockey, spent most of this campaign with the New Haven Nighthawks of the American League. He saw action in 48 games in New Haven and had 21 goals and 24 assists.

On Friday night against the Totems, the Gulls won 5-2 and O'Ree had an assist in his first game in a San Diego uniform this season.

Willie is the fifth best goal scorer on the all-time Gull list with 117. He is sixth in total points with 245. O'Ree also has the distinction of having the most playoff goals in San Diego history with 15 red-lighters in 30 post season games.

Rick Foley came off the suspended list for being overweight and made his presence felt in the 5-2 win over Seattle when he piled up 13 minutes in penalties with 1 major and four minors. He has now played in 14 games with the Gulls this season and he has scored four points.

Both O'Ree and Foley will be in the lineup tonight when the Portland Buckaroos come to the Sports Arena. Game time is 7:30. The Bucks feature several names familiar to local fans including two remarkable athletes in Andy Hebenton and Guyle Fielder. Both men are over-40 and still going strong for Portland. The Buckaroos also feature the third best scorer in the WHL, Art Jones. Going into games of this week, Jones had 73 points on 26 goals and 47 assists in only 51 games.

Tickets for the Gulls-Portland game are now on sale at the Sports Arena box office, Bill Gamble's Mens Stores and all Arena ticket agencies.

Gull Notes

Ken Broderick is still the best goalie in the WHL according to the latest stats released Monday from the league office in Seattle . . . Ken has a goals against average of 2.90 . . . He has played the most number of minutes than any goalie in the league (2238) and has the most number of saves (1038) . . .

All-star Tackle Mix Back As Chargers Team Attorney

Ron Mix is a San Diego Charger again.

A member of the first Charger team in 1960 and star offensive tackle with the Chargers through 1969, Mix was appointed to the new staff position of Executive Counsel by club President Eugene V. Klein last week.

Mix, 35, will handle contract negotiations with players and trade negotiations with other clubs. He will help represent the Chargers in National Football League and San Diego community activities.

Klein said that Mix, "As a former player, a former Charger and an attorney, is uniquely qualified for this position. We are delighted to welcome Ron back to the Chargers."

Mix retired from the Chargers after the 1969 season. He completed Law School at the University of San Diego in 1970 and subsequently passed the California State Bar. He decided to return to playing football in 1971 and was traded to the Oakland Raiders. He was a Raider in 1971 and 1972.

Mix was a first team all-AFL player from 1960 through 1968 and played in seven All-Star games and five championship games. A student and author, he earned the nickname, "Intellectual Assassin."

Mix was named to the all-time American Football League team in 1969. A native of Los Angeles and all-America player and team captain at USC, Mix was a No. 1 draft choice of the Baltimore Colts in 1960. Instead he chose to sign with the new Los Angeles Chargers, which became San Diego Chargers in 1961.

Mix said, "The job with the Chargers sounds exciting. I think the business of football has progressed to where it is useful to have one with a legal background working on a full-time basis within an organization."

Compensatory School Program Set Sunday

Assemblyman Wilie Brown; Dr. Wilson Riles, State Superintendent of Public Instruction; and Dr. Julian Nava, L.A. City school board member, will address the 7th annual conference of California Association of Compensatory Education March 11-13 at the Town & Country Convention Center in Mission Valley.

Compensatory education programs provide money for services to youngsters who were nutritionally, or medically deprived along the way.

Brown's address, "Meager Resources for Major Jobs," will be gven Sunday evening at 7:30 to 3500 conference participants composed of both educators and parents. Recent cutbacks and changes in compensatory education programs are forcing California educators to decide how best to implement programs on reduced funding.

Dr. Riles has been instrumental in the adoption of the Early Childhood Education program and is expected to speak on that topic Monday evening at 7:30.

Dr. Julian Nava will speak on a board member's perspective of compensatory education programs on Tuesday morning at 9:30. Dr. Nava is a member of the L.A. City school board and a professor at Cal. State U., Northridge.

Nearly one-thousand parents will attend the conference. Parents continue to make input that helps educators make decisions about compensatory programs, according to Mrs. Dolores Wells of Chula Vista School District and conference planning chairman.

Dr. Richard L. Fairley, director of compensatory education, Washington, D.C., will present a preconference dialogue Sunday at 3:30 for the membership only. The meeting will concern recent legislation and trends at the national level.

Aztec Cagers Close Season (15-11) on Winning Note

San Diego State University closed the 1972-73 basketball season on a winning note Saturday, downing Fresno State 76-75 in the San Diego Sports Arena.

The win gave Dick Davis' team a final 15-11 record overall and a 7-5 mark in the Pacific Coast Athletic Association. The 7-5 record was good for third place behind PCAA champion Cal State Long Beach and second place UC Santa Barbara.

Davis now has a 58-48 career record at San Diego State in four years and is 20-24 in PCAA play. For the Aztecs, it was their second straight third place finish in the PCAA after back-to-back fifth place finishes.

The final win over Fresno State marked the last appearance of Aztec seniors Geoff Pete, Larry Jones and Chris Marlowe. Pete and Marlowe were the first two players recruited by Davis four years ago.

Pete ended his career as an Aztec with 256 free throws. He was also the leading scorer with 315 points and a 12.1 average.

Jones was the Aztecs leading rebounder with 185 boards for a 7.1 average.

Marlowe was the Aztec assist leader in 1972-73 while averaging 5.1 points per game. He played 102 consecutive games as an Aztec, including 22 as a freshman, which is an Aztec career record.

Chris McMurray, who was suspended for the season after the 15th game of the season, finished as the fifth best career rebounder at San Diego State with 492.

Freshman Steve Copp was probably the biggest surprise for the Aztecs in the 1972-73 season. The 6-6 forward from Hilltop High School in Chula Vista led the Aztecs in scoring and rebounding in the conference with 13.7 and 8.1 averages, respectively.

He also averaged 10.4 points for the season and 6.7 rebounds. He made the last four points of the Fresno State game, including a free throw with five seconds to play to ice the game.

Monte Vista Claims State Championship

Spring Valley is one of the top spots in the state for wrestling and Mt. Miguel and Monte Vista high school teams proved that point over the weekend at the first-ever California Interscholastic Federation state wrestling tournament.

Monte Vista, placing two men in the finals, was unable to claim a first place in the individual competition, but managed to roll up 41 team points to win the state crown.

Mt. Miguel, relying on youngsters, took two second place individual awards to garner enough points for sixth place in the tournament.

Mt. Miguel's finalists were John Siscon and Miguel Cesena. Monte Vista's finalists were Robbie Hudson and Matt Taylor.

Travel Slides In Free Showing Fri.

"The Yesterday of Today" is the title of the narrated color slide program by Marguerite and Maude Elliott to be presented by Helix Showmasters, Friday, at Ben Polak auditorium.

While wandering abroad through numerous foreign countries and meeting the past at every turn, the Elliotts were intrigued with the shadows of yesterday coloring the events of today.

In this show the past is reflected in present-day Bulgaria and Romania, with its echoes still lingering to dominate the German countryside.

Doors to the auditorium, 8053 University, La Mesa, will open at 6:30 p.m. with shows at 7 and 8:30 p.m. The presentation is free.

Off-Broadway to Reopen; Full Year's Schedule Seen

The Off-Broadway, San Diego's legitimate thetare, is going to open again.

It closed in January when Betty Hutton cancelled her appearance here due to an injury.

The theatre had been operated by owner-producer Vincent Miranda. The property has been leased by Don Wortman and Tom Hartzog and the first production will probably be in April.

Wortman and Hartzog recently announced the formation of a production company in Los Angeles and had approached Miranda prior to the Hutton cancellation.

The theatre under Wortman and Hartzog will be a year-round operation with the opening show not decided on when they visited San Diego last week to announce their new venture.

One of the first things they did was to reinstate Floyd Ackerman as managing director which indicates the new team has good judgment. Ackerman then reinstated most of the staff from the previous ownership. More good judgment.

Wortman and Hartzog will operate touring companies out of Hollywood with established stars in leading roles. Dallas and St. Louis are already on the tour schedule.

Wortman, once a child actor, operated a theatrical agency in New York, directed 22 productions of "South Pacific", touring shows "Gypsy", "The King and I", "Flower Drum Song", "Music Man", "Carnival" and others.

He finally came to Los Angeles to head the theatre department of the International Famous Agency.

Tom Hartzog, of Memphis, operates motels, the burglar alarm business, dental products, silver polish and is producing a teevee pilot. He is director of Memphis Arts Council; the Ballet Society, the Mid-South Fair, and the Arts Appreciation Foundation which brings the Metropolitan Opera to Memphis annually. He commutes between Hollywood and Memphis.

Wortman-Hartzog Productions, Inc. was formed in January, 1973. Some of their touring productions will make their debuts at Off-Broadway this summer. They envision four shows a season during a four season year.

USD Hoopsters Eye NCAA Championship

University of San Diego begins its journey into post season basketball competition when it joins three other teams in the National Collegiate Athletic Association District 8 tournament at Bakersfield, Friday and Saturday.

The Toreros enter the two-day affair pitted against host Cal State Bakersfield, Univ. of Puget Sound and either UC Riverside and Sonoma State Tuesday night.

The winner of this week's action will move to the eight-team NCAA championships in Evansville, Ind., Mar. 14-16.

This is the second time USD has been involved in playoff activity. The 1965-66 Torero squad was selected but lost two straight games. Current head coach Bernie Bickerstaff, now in his fourth season as mentor of the Torero cagers, was a player on that team.

The 1972-73 Toreros finished their regular season schedule with an 18-8 won-lost record. Bakersfield, titlist in the Calif. Collegiate Athletic Assn., has an identical 18-8 mark, including a split in two games with USD.

A 12-man USD roster lists forwards Pete Cosenza (6-6), Tommy Davis (6-4), Stephen Jones (6-3½), Kenneth Smith (6-4) and Robert Smith (6-6½), center Ben Thompson (6-6) and guards Mike Bajo (6-1), Charles Caruso (6-2), Mike Marrinan (6-2), Ron Modic (5-10), Joe Smith (6-1) and Stan Washington (6-4).

Aztec Golfers Meet Toreros

Frank Scott's San Diego State University's golf team will play its final two matches before hosting the Aztec Invitational on March 15-16-17 when the Aztecs meet USD today at 12:30 p.m. at Carlton Oaks and then meet the U. of Redlands on Monday at the Redlands Country Club.

The Aztecs won a pair of matches last week, defeating Cal State Los Angeles and UC San Diego, but lost a 28-26 decision to USIU.

U. of Houston, U. of Texas, New Mexico, BYU, Fresno State, Cal State Long Beach, San Jose State and Arizona State are all entered in the Aztec Invitational to be held at Carlton Oaks.

Don McCray In Race For School Board Seat

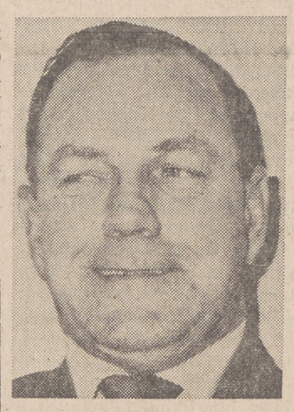
Hugh (Don) McCray, 50, of 1862 Costada ct., Lemon Grove, is a candidate for the Lemon Grove School District Board of Trustees.

McCray, a sheet metal worker, has been involved with the community for many years and is presently serving as parade chairman for the Lemon Grove Old Time Days Association.

As OTD parade chairman, it will be his responsibility to coordinate entries for the annual parade down Broadway scheduled in May. He has been with the Old Time Days Association for six years and has also been involved with the Lemon Grove Planning Association.

McCray, who has a granddaughter attending local schools, said that the school board needs to have more involvement with the PTA's of the district's eight schools.

He sees community involvement in schools, however, as the responsibility of the citizens of the community to attend meetings and keep informed.



Don McCray

He said that the present board has done a good job but added that it will face financial problems in the future. He cited the recent cuts in Federal impact funds and preschool funds.

McCray said that other states have ways of supporting their schools which differ greatly from California's system and that he would like to see this state examine some of the ideas from other states.

The candidate indicated that he has a real interest in Lemon Grove and a special interest in the school district.

College Opens Photo Exhibit

A photographic exhibit depicting the interment of 110,000 American-Japanese during World War II opened Monday in the Grossmont College Library. Presented by the college's Office of Community Services, the exhibit is titled "Executive Order 9066" and was produced by the California Historical Society.

The 1942 executive order signed by Franklin D. Roosevelt, affected all persons of Japanese descent then residing in the coastal areas of California, Oregon and Washington. Relocation camps guarded by Army sentries, were hastily constructed in remote areas of Arizona, Utah, Idaho, Colorado, Arkansas, Wyoming and California.

The extraordinary exhibit includes photographs and newspaper clippings selected by Maisie and Richard Conrat from approximately 25,000 taken by Dorothy Lange and other contemporary photographers.

The exhibit will continue through April 14 with viewing hours from 7:30 a.m. to 10 p.m., Monday through Thursday; 7:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Friday; 12:30 to 4:30 p.m., Saturday and 12:30 to 5:30 p.m. on Sunday. There is no charge for admission.

Clair Burgener Given Gifted Children Award

Congressman Clair W. Burgener has been selected by the California Association for the Gifted for their Outstanding Service to Gifted Children Award. Burgener will be the second recipient of this award in the 10-year history of this statewide organization of educators and parents.

Burgener is being honored for his service to the cause of education for gifted children as a member of the California Legislature from 1963 to 1973. He resigned from the State Senate last month to assume his duties as the Representative of California's new 42nd Congressional District.

Among Burgener's contributions to special education has been his support for special classes, special counseling for gifted students and their families as well as a program to encourage identification of students who could benefit from such services.

Burgener, long known for his efforts in behalf of the mentally retarded and physically handicapped student said he believes that "The cause of special education is the cause of all students. The only effective way to help the students at any level is to improve the educational opportunities available to all".

Mrs. Betty Pengelley In High School Board Race

Elizabeth "Betty" Pengelley, 58, of 9129 Spring ln., La Mesa, who maintains that it is just as important for a person to be ready to take a job as it is to be prepared for college, is a candidate for the Grossmont Union High School District Board of Trustees.

Mrs. Pengelley has been active for 12 years with the League of Women Voters in leadership positions and served as vice president of the League on the state level until she resigned to run for the school board.

Her professional background includes 17 years in computerized business analysis for aerospace and insurance firms. She also was a teacher of computer applications to business at Trinity University in Texas.

Her civic activities have also included memberships in the American Association of University Women, the Citizen's Coordinate for Century Three, which is a local environmental concern, the Citizens United for Racial Equality, and the San Diego County Human Relations Committee.

Mrs. Pengelley sees the single most pressing issue to the high school district as that of overcrowding because of increasing enrollment. As a trustee, she said, she would want a bond election to finance Valhalla High School the district's controversial ninth school.

A bond issue could be held to finance the needed school, with the current tax levy utilized to reduce taxes and expand existing facilities, she explained.

She said that the district needs to find ways to use current facilities more efficiently, although she said she strongly opposes the 45-15 year round school program for high schools.

Under the 45-15 plan, students attend school for nine weeks and are then given a three-week vacation, which Mrs. Pengelley said is fine for elementary schools where the attention span of the students is shorter.

For high schools, however, she maintained, students should be adjusting to longer work spans. Additionally, the candidate said, enrichment programs for both students and teachers are curtailed by the 45-15 plan.

She said a more feasible year round program would be to have students attend school for three quarters, as they do now, except that the schedules would be staggered so that some students would have summer vacations, while others would have winter, spring, or fall vacations.

Other goals she has for the district include expanding the vocational education system and increasing the number of counselors in the schools. She said that the district employs good counselors but that there are not enough of them.

She said that a woman's point of view is needed on the board, but added that "I don't approve of voting for a person- just because she is a woman, but a good qualified woman would be to the board's advantage."

Gulls-Bruins Ink Pact Broderick Sale Official

The San Diego Gulls and the Boston Bruins inked a pact Tuesday that established a "working agreement" between the two teams.

"I can't think of a better arrangement," said Gull general manager Max McNab. "The Bruins are an up-and-coming young team."

The Gulls already have Mike Bloom and Murray Wing—both Bruins' property.

The two teams also made official the sale to the Bruins of Ken Broderick, Gulls star goalie for three players and cash. Broderick got a three-year contract. Salary was unspecified.

Theft, Pills, Tardiness Contribute to Man's Woes

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — A Spring Valley youth who had trouble getting to court on time and meeting his probation requirements was ordered Friday in Superior Court to spend the next 90 days in an honor camp.

James William McGriff, 19, of 731 Brucker ave., pleaded guilty on June 26, 1972, to grand theft, person, of a local resident. Police records showed he threatened the man with a knife and stole $65, a wristwatch and a silver coin worth $7. A charge of armed robbery was dismissed.

He was in the county jail at the time of his sentencing, due to failure to make a court appearance. Judge Gilbert Harelson put him on three years' probation, with 240 days to be spent in an honor camp.

But on Nov. 11 the judge modified the sentence, to allow McGriff out of custody. But the young man failed to contact his probation officer until Jan. 3, at which time he was given a urinalysys and was found to have been using barbiturates.

It was on violation of probation that McGriff appeared before Judge Douglas R. Woodworth. When first called, the youth was not there, and the judge ordered a bench warrant with $5,000 bond for his arrest. But McGriff turned up later and was sentenced for 90 days.

Good Nutrition and Intelligence

A report in an issue of Medical World News Outlook says: "By controlling the diet of pregnant women, doctors may eventually be able to exert a favorable influence on the intelligence of children, their ability to learn, and their resistance to stresses such as cold and infection. Ten years of experiments at Johns Hopkins University have established that offspring of rodents fed adequate levels of protein score better in these respects than do those in litters from underfed rats." Milk protein was used in the laboratory work.

PTA HILITES

Bancroft

Three parents of Bancroft Elementary School students and a former teacher at the school were honored by the school's Parent-Teacher Association at its Founders Day meeting last month.

William Heidbreder, who taught sixth grade at Bancroft for many years before being transferred to La Mesa Dale School, was honored for his work with school projects.

Also honored were Mrs. Alfred Ruggles, a parent and instructional aide at the school, and Mr. and Mrs. Monte Hildum, who have been staunch PTA and Spring Valley Bobby Sox supporters for many years.

Kempton Street

The Kempton Street Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association has scheduled its annual fashion show for March 15 at 3 p.m. in the school multi-purpose room.

Fashions for the affair are furnished by Mode-O-Day, according to Sandra Nielson, fashion show chairman. The PTA will also elect officers for next year during a short business meeting then.

San Miguel

The San Miguel PTA Unit meeting will be held at the school auditorium tonight at 7:30 p.m.

Following a brief business meeting, conducted by president Mrs. Doris White, the program for the evening will be introduced by program chairman Gwen Bierly. The theme for the evening is "Action in Discussion," which will be presented by the school's Citizen Advisory Committee.

Included in the evening's activities will be a presentation of awards for a patriotic poster contest.

Vista La Mesa

"Applause", a song and dance presentation featuring kindergarten children, will be offered this evening by the Vista La Mesa School Parent-Teacher Association at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafetorium.

Bill Talbot, president of the school PTA, will serve as master of ceremonies for the program, which is under the direction of teachers Dorothy Pavolvec and Mary Lou Dawson.

54 Families Want to Know About Youth Center's Progress

There is still interest in a facility for youngsters in Lemon Grove or Spring Valley even though the School lane Youth Center project is dormant for the time being.

Our subscription salespeople ask each person they contact regarding their attitude for such a facility — and the responses they get favor the operation of such a facility.

The County Board of Supervisors has been asked to underwrite the cost of operation of the one in Lemon Grove, but the Board's decision is yet to come. The request was made in January just as the Board membership- change over occurred.

Last week a total of 54 families said they wanted to know about the progress of the facility — and subscribed to this newspaper in order to be informed.

Here's the list:

Legerton Seeks Lemon Grove School Board Post

One of five candidates for the Lemon Grove School District Bard of Trustees is Dr. Jerome A. Legerton, 26, of 1764 Skyline dr., Lemon Grove, who supports high priorities on progressive education.

Legerton, who is married and the father of two children who attend local schools, said he thinks the schools in Lemon Grove are quite progressive and that, if elected, he would continue to seek the high level of quality in education which Lemon Grove has now.

He would support recommendations made by the district administration, he said, that would support a policy of higher priorities to education, rather than a plant-oriented policy.

Improving the ratio of educators to students was a goal he listed, and he also wants more citizen involvement in setting goals for the district.

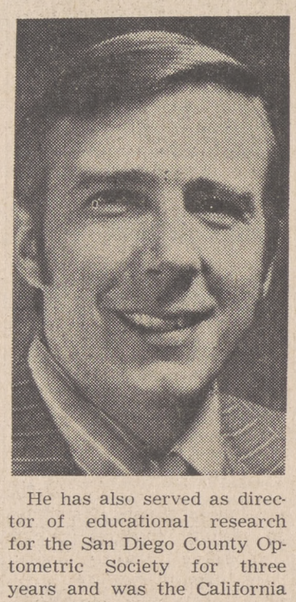
"I would be sensitive to the desires of the community regarding education," he said, if he is elected to the board.

Legerton said he feels that "school experience" is as important as the end product of academic achievment, explaining that students should be free to reach their own potentials. "I'm for schools without failure and the open classroom concept," he added.

These approaches, he said, are better han a highly structured uniform program.

His experience in administrative matters, he said, have indicated that he is well qualified for the board seat. He has served on the Lions Club Sight Clinic board of directors for four years and has served as president of the board.

His civic activities include work in the vision screening program in the Lemon Grove Schools, which he helped implement as Lemon Grove Lions Club sight preservation chairman.



He has also served as director of educational research for the San Diego County Optometric Society for three years and was the California Young Optometric of the Year in 1971.

Legerton, who operates an office at 7860 Golden ave., Lemon Grove, is a graduate of Los Angeles College of Optometry with a BS and OD degree.

He has held positions and has been involved with the Chamber of Commerce, the Old Time Days Association, the Planning Association, the Lemon Grove Masonic Lodge, the Toastmasters and the Mt. Vernon PTA.

He is a member of the citizens' advisory council to the Lemon Grove School Destrict, an ex-officio member of the Monterey Heights Elementary School advisory committee, and a member of the board of Christian education for the Lemon Grove Church of Christ, Congregational.

'Flicks For Kicks' Is Jim Buckelew Topic

The effect of violence on society will be discussed by Dr. James K. Buckelew when he speaks to the subject "Vicarious Violence — Flicks for Kicks" at 1 p.m., Monday, March 12 at Cinema Grossmont, Grossmont Center.

The third program in the series titled "The Humane Crisis," presented by Grossmont College's Office of Community Services and the San Diego County Library, will also feature three prize-winning short films, "The Hand," "The Hangman" and "Five Minute Thrill."

Dr. Buckelew, assistant professor of journalism at California State University San Diego and part-time announcer on radio station KCBQ, has conducted and published research on the subject of media decision making in the areas of violence and conflict.

Stull Easy Winner In Senate Race

"I learned that I had won in the primary (for the 38th State Senate District) when Registrar of Voters Charles Sexton called me 'Senator' in a telephone call earlier this evening."

That's how Assemblyman John Stull got the news that he would occupy the post vacated by U.S. Congressman Clair Burgener.

In unofficial tallies, Stull got 60.8% of the 63,807 total votes cast. There will be no runoff.

Trailing Stull were these candidates:

Dr. Melvin Crane	18,471	17.6%
Iris Sankey	9,199	8.7
Leonard Thomas	3,339	3.1
Ivan Huyser	7,594	7.2
Leslie Dork	974	.9
Dr. S. Dingwall	1,552	1.4

Voter turnout was 35.3% due to a combination of intermittent rainstorms and the lack of strong opposition to Stull.

Senator Stull said, at a victory party at the Penasquitos Country club Tuesday night, that his attention would be directed toward education, taxes, and local government issues soon after his senatorial assignments are handed out.

Bike Safety Rodeo Starts; 10-Speed Bicycle is Prize

Some youngster is going to win a 10-speed bicycle — if he wins the Kiwanis Club's Bicycle Safety Rodeo.

Preliminary contests are under way and the first one was completed last week at San Altos school. A winner and four runners up were chosen following a comprehensive riding test by the Accident Reduction Team of the California Highway Patrol.

The Rodeo will be held in mid-April with the top five safety riders at each of nine schools — six L.G. district schools, St. John of the Cross Catholic school and two nearby schools in Spring Valley — in the ride-off.

Sixth-grader Philip Gould, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Gould, 1411 Madera st., Lemon Grove, was winner of the San Miguel preliminary. Runners-up were Beverly Schillizzi, Robbie Robinson, Vernon Timkin and James Hill. Kim Mathis scored highest but moved from the district before the winners were announced.

Mrs. Prince Moses, representing San Miguel PTA was in charge of judging.

Louis Poluzzi, president of the L.G. Kiwanis club said the bike will be presented to the winning youngster on one of the school grounds. The winner will also be a guest of honor at a regular Wednesday meeting of the Kiwanis club. Arrangements are being made for the winner to ride in the Old Times Days parade May 19.

MILESTONE — As Pacific Telephone takes note of an historic milestone this week — installation of the one millionth telephone in San Diego County — the East County exchanges of La Mesa and El Cajon continue to be among the pacesetters in telephone growth. Figures released today by R. V. Schumacher, district customer service manager for PacTel, shows that there are roughly 180,000 phones in use in the East County. "This is about 15,000 more phones than there were a year ago," said Schumacher. He explianed that the figure is approximately one per cent greater than the county-wide growth rate for last year.
